25 & 26 June 2009

London School of Economics and Political Science

Call for Papers

We invite submissions for the 4th PhD symposium on Contemporary Greece and Cyprus. A main objective of the symposium is to facilitate the exchange of knowledge and ideas between young scholars currently undertaking research on Greece. The 4th symposium, as with the previous three, is intended to help graduate research students to overcome the academic isolation associated to PhD research, to 'try' their ideas and findings on wider audiences, and to establish new collaborative links across disciplines. Researchers will also be able to 'engage' with a wider academic community, including academic members of staff at the LSE, and also a number of other distinguished scholars who will act as keynote speakers and discussants to the symposium.

We welcome contributions from research students (current and recent) across any field of the Social Sciences and Humanities whose PhD focuses on contemporary Greece and Cyprus. The topics covered in the symposium include, but are not limited to:

- Media and Public Perceptions
- Foreign Policy
- Public Policy (including welfare, education, and social policies)
- Economic Policy (including labour market, industrial, and regional policies)
- Economic Problems and Performance (including macro/micro economics and finance)
- Greece and Southeast Europe (including economic and political cooperation and energy)
- Domestic and EU politics
- Migration and Minorities
- History and Culture
- State and Society

Abstracts of 500 words maximum must be submitted via the 'paper proposal' form. Abstracts should indicate the academic significance of the topic, relevance of conceptual literature, and analytical structure. A limited number of travel grants of £200 maximum will be available to the contributors. Information about the travel grants and the eligibility criteria can be found at <http://www.lse.ac.uk/collections/hellenicObservatory>. The deadline for the submission of the abstracts and for application for the travel grants is 1 March 2009. Postgraduates can apply for the travel grant by filling the appropriate section of the 'paper proposal' form. The 'paper proposal' form can be downloaded from: <http://www.lse.ac.uk/collections/hellenicObservatory>. Submissions can be made by email only to: hellenicobservatory.phd@lse.ac.uk.

Successful applicants will be notified by 31 March and will be requested to submit their full paper by 8 June 2009. There will be a registration fee of £10 for all participants, payable preferably by cheque to the Hellenic Observatory, Houghton Street, London, WC2A 2AE, or upon registration. General participants are welcome to attend.
